Numbers & Planets

People born on January 6th, are ruled by the number 6 and the Planet Venus. These individuals are magnetic and attractive, but are also adept in expressing to others anything from admiration to sympathy. The added influence of Saturn, ruler of Capricorn, enhances loyalty to family, friends or business associates.

While the Saturn-Venus connection can suggest a highly complex or unusual love life with a myriad of complications, love is, in fact, the dominant theme in the lives of those ruled by the number 6.

A central theme in the lives of those born on January 6th, is the need to make sense of life. This may manifest itself in many ways, from philosophical speculations to a basic search for the best way to live. Even the most materialistically oriented January 6 people usually have a good working sense of a higher power, be it in nature or universal spirit or soul. Those more highly evolved individuals born on this day seek to embody spiritual characteristics and universal principles in their daily lives through devotion, duty and appreciation of the material in all forms. Their connection in the world is not so technical as it is philosophical or poetic. That there are so many creative, artistic people born on this day is not by chance.

True believers in a power greater than themselves, their inner vision remains unshaken through the hardest times. Courageous by nature, January 6 individuals are not afraid to face dangers, either on the physical or spiritual plane. They recognize the power of negative forces, but seem able to transmute the negativity by their good will and inner light, taking off harsh edges and making most situations bearable.

A problem for those born on this day may be a tendency to take themselves a bit too seriously. In having their ideas or projects validated they may mistakenly assume they are unimpeachable sources for whatever is being presented. Energetic and highly persuasive, they can be a bit taxing for those who prefer to take life a tad more casually. Another set of problems for January 6 individuals involves the tendency for self sacrifice, often wearing themselves out in the care and tending of others, neglecting their own health in the process.

The Day of Validation

While they may be highly subjective individuals, they are able to express their thoughts in very clear, uncomplicated terms. Regardless of their profession, they are teachers in the truest sense of the word.

It is important for the January 6th individual to remember that it is your life, and that it cannot be lived for or through anyone else. Hold firm to your sense of self while remaining open to sharing with others. Serve only those things which merit your loyalty and support.

*"They do not love that do not show their love.
The course of true love never did run smooth.
Love is a familiar. Love is a devil.
There is no evil angel but Love."*

Shakespeare

TAROT CARD for January 6: THE LOVERS

January 6th is ruled by The Lovers (VI) card, symbolic of love that unites all of humanity through the integration of male and female principles. This is most suggestive as love often becomes the dominant theme of these individuals. The true meaning of "soul mate" is about the influence this individual has on the growth or expansion of your soul. Never an easy path to travel, this is often why we need the "blinkers" of love to persevere.

Positive aspects of this card include affections and desires played out on a high moral, aesthetic and physical plane. A down side for these individuals is a propensity for unfulfilled desires, sentimentality and indecisiveness.

Although this person may have had previous relationships, the importance of this card later in life may be speaking to something other than involvement with another person. Its energy also bespeaks of artistic growth and creativity; a "coming into one's own" in areas of artistic or creative expression.

Contrary to the popular belief that soul mates means blue skies and smooth sailing, very often quite the opposite is true. While physical attraction may be the initial draw, there are serious issues that must be worked out before real, lasting harmony can be achieved. It is important not to mistake desire for love. Desire leaves home frantically searching for one pleasure or gratification after another. Love is at home with itself, for it has no strings and makes no demands. There is no longer a need for impulsive behavior or thoughtless actions based on fears or insecurities.

Ultimately, The Lovers card is about finding the peace and love within ourselves to be able to recognize it in, or share it with another.

Advice: It is important to remember that this is your life. It cannot be lived for or through anyone else. While it is important to share and exchange with others, you must keep in mind the importance of looking after yourself. While you have great capacity for giving, you need to be very clear about the causes or people you choose to serve.

"Love seeks no cause beyond itself and no fruit; it is its own fruit, its own enjoyment. I love because I love; I love in order that I may love."

St. Bernard
